COUNTY GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP UP FOR GRABS AT SWENSON

(Stockton, CA) – The field is packed for the 2004 San Joaquin County Golf Championship. The annual tournament will showcase some of the top amateur talent in the area. 120 golfers will tee it up on Saturday and Sunday at Swenson Golf Course, including 2003 champion, Mike Yoke. Last year, Yoke won by two strokes over James Aldana and Jason Stone. Both Aldana and Stone will be back this year to challenge Yoke for the championship.

The San Joaquin County Golf Championship is split into three flights. The Championship flight is for those with 0 to 5 handicaps, first flight for 6 to 9 handicaps, and the second flight for 10 to 14 handicaps. The golfers can obtain points in the tournament for the Northern California Golf Association (NCGA). The tournament champion will be crowned from the Championship flight. On Saturday, the Championship flight will tee start on the 10th hole, and on Sunday the Championship flight will start off on the first hole. The first golfers tee off at 7:30 a.m.
